Possible drop in water pressure
at your tap

Water supply maintenance

Important to know

Nature and impact of the work

- The city will be carrying out preliminary work to optimize the water supply system under Chemin Sainte-Marie, between Chemin de l'Anse-à-l'Orme and Rue Jean-Yves.
- While all precautions to avoid disrupting the network's continuous supply are taken, these operations could cause a drop in water pressure at your tap between December 6, 9:30 a.m. and December 8, 4 p.m.

For further information on drops in water pressure

- Visit the montreal.ca website.
- Enter "drop in water pressure" in the search engine.
